The MHSOAC staff is recommending that the Commission approve six County Prevention and Early Intervention Plans. Each County will provide learning in different areas of mental health prevention services for California. Highlights include the following:

- Colusa County outreached to migrant camps.
- Placer County, stretching from the valley to Tahoe, will tackle Stigma Reduction.
- San Luis Obispo, on the South Central coast, will provide a screening tool for older-adults which may prove to be a model for other communities.
- Sonoma, of the North Bay, outreached to the LGBTQ, Latino, gang involved youth, college age and pregnant women groups.
- Trinity, in California's rustic northern mountains engaged diverse communities, including Native American groups.
- Tuolumne's PEI plan included the first PEI anti-bullying program.
